ORGANIZING FOR HARVEST LABOUR

Vital Importance of Organization

Canada now has 500,000 men in the Armed Forces and over 600,000 in war industry, a total of 1,100,000 men. When it is considered that this total is almost 25 percent of the man power of Canada, it is obvious that the food production of this country cannot be maintained unless those remaining are willing and ready to carry the extra load. The farmers of Alberta have met many crises in the past with determination and resource. They can be depended upon to do it in this instance.

W. H. Ross, Acting Chairman, Alberta Advisory Committee on Harvest Labour

Some 14 organizations have united to form plans whereby it is hoped sufficient help may be obtained to harvest the bumper crop.

Organizations serving on this committee include:

The Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

The United Farmers of Alberta.
The Alberta Farmers Union.
Department of Agriculture, Alberta
United Grain Growers.
Alberta Wheat Pool.
North-West Line Elevators Association.

Alberta Ass'n. of Municipal District Secretary Treasurers.
Provincial Milk and Inspected Cream Producers Association.

The Rural Municipalities Association.

Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.
Calgary Board of Trade.

Unemployment Insurance Commission.

In the local area the Sec. Treas. of each municipality will act as the contact man. He, in cooperation with the Reeve, may call meetings to ascertain the needs and help required. The Secretary-Treasurer will in turn advise the Unemployment Insurance Commission, who will make a summary of the complete returns. Farmers needing more help can then apply to the Secretary of the Unemployment Commission.

Possible Sources of Outside Help

The Armed Forces. Instructions have been issued by the Department of National Defence to the Officers Commanding the Military Districts whereby certain Corp Troops, Veteran Guards, etc., will be released for harvest work. This release does not apply to those in training, and it is without pay and without many of the privileges that the soldier ordinarily enjoys. The number coming within the scope of this order is so limited that very little help can be anticipated from that source. The strongest representations possible, in view of the military situation, have been made by the Alberta Department of Agriculture to the Department of National Defence, National War Services and the Federal Department of Agriculture, pointing out the serious situation that exists and urging that, if at all possible, members of the Armed Forces in training who have experience in agriculture and are willing to help with the harvest should be released on furlough to give such help.

THANKSGIVING DAY OCTOBER 12

Thanksgiving Day has been set for October 12 by the Dominion Government.

Presentation To Mayor Hughes By Town Council

Friday evening last, the Town Councilors including Solicitor T. M. Wears and Secretary Treasurer M.B. Garrett gathered at the Mayor's home to express to him their genuine regret at his departure and to present to him as a small token of their regard a beautiful morocco bound fitted toilet case.

The presentation was made by the councillor, senior in service, Harry Miner. Mayor Hughes very warmly expressed his appreciation of the gift, and the kindly expressions of the members of the council, and his pleasure in working with them during the years. Mrs. Hughes was presented with a very lovely bouquet of roses and gladioli as a token of appreciation for which she too expressed her sincere thanks.

Refreshments were served and a happy social hour followed.

Lt. Ian MacKenzie Joins 114th Battery

Again we regret to announce the loss of another of Strathmore's key men in the person of Lieut. W. I. MacKenzie, vice-principal and teacher of science and mathematics in our High School, showwork for boys, able instructor of the 2-23 Battery, and an all-round good citizen.

As an instructor, all the men of the Battery spoke highly of Mr. MacKenzie's leadership and as high school teacher he has had excellent reports. Impelled by the conviction that he should be doing "his bit" to aid the cause of the Allies, he has tendered his resignation, the Board regretfully granting him release for the duration. He left Monday for Calgary enroute to Brandon where he will join the 114th Battery.

We wish him health and a safe return.

FRIDAY'S Public Meeting

In addition to the shortage of harvest help, some difficulty is being experienced in regard to a wage satisfaction for both Farmer and Helper. It is to arrive at a reasonable basis for all that this meeting is being held to discuss the various angles.

It is a live topic that should interest everyone in a rural community.

LEGION ANNUAL PICNIC

For the fifth year in succession ideal weather and a good attendance assisted in making the annual Legion picnic a success. War restrictions made it necessary to hold the event at home and it was found that Lambert Park was the right place in all respects and its facilities were greatly appreciated. More interest was taken in the sports this year. These were ably arranged by W. I. MacKenzie and J. Crellin. Everyone took part. There was lots of fun and it looks as if everyone got a prize. Strathmore and Gleichen Band added much to the pleasure of the day. It was a happy assembly that sat down at the well filled tables. The ice cream never tasted better. The baseball game now in its fifth inning terminated a very enjoyable outing.

STORM GIVES POWER MEN HEADACHE

Farmers are not the only group who worry during such storms as visited the district Monday and Tuesday nights.

One of the transformers on Strathmore and Rockyford was burned out with the result that a genuine "blackout" occurred.

Thanks to the ingenuity and labor of the men of the Calgary Power Co., assisted by Anson Chase, the trouble was located and repaired, the power turned on and again there was light and power.

REV. E. J. I. HOAD COMING TO STRATHMORE

The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. E. J. I. Hoad in Claresholm will learn with regret that they are being moved from Claresholm, going to Strathmore to take over the charge of the Anglican Church there, which includes Gleichen, Carseland and Nightingale. Arrangements for his successor here has not been announced, but in the meantime Fit. Lt. Roe will be taking the local services.

STRATHMORE COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL WAR FINANCE

A meeting was held Monday night in the Town Hall to elect officers and form plans for the further raising of finances to carry on the war. Present were E. N. Ridley, T. S. Hughes, F. Fulton, Jas. Harwood, H. McGregor, Geo. Quirin, T. E. Wright with Mrs. John Freeman, Secretary.

Resulting from a full discussion of ways and means it was agreed that it will be necessary to push to the limit the sale of stamps, war saving certificates and bonds.

A further meeting will be held when more definite plans will be arranged. Officers elected were:

E. N. Ridley, Chairman.
Jas. Harwood, Vice Chairman.
E. N. Ridley, Chairman, Public Relations.

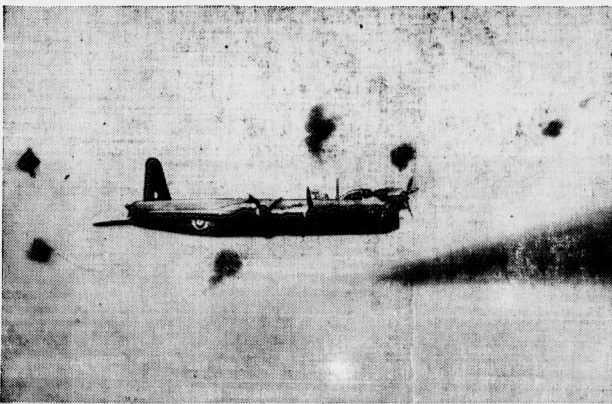

Frank Fulton, Unit Organizer, succeeding T. S. Hughes who resigned to enlist in the R.C.A.F.

Geo. Quirin, Chairman Payroll Section.

General Sales Committee, H. McGregor, T. E. Wright, Morton McIlroy. Organization, Canvassers of different districts.

Says Wally, our incurable bach, some fellows hunt trouble for themselves, but most of 'em are led to the altar.

R.C.A.F. BOMBER FINDS TARGET THROUGH CLOUD OF FLAK

As a flight of bombers sailed over enemy territory on its way to the target of the day, a gunner poked his camera over the side and made this photograph of a Stirling bomber, surrounded by anti-aircraft gunbursts.

On every mass bombing raid — over Hamburg, Essen and all the other huge Nazi munitions centres — fighting fliers of the R.C.A.F. do their share in the work of crippling the enemy's munitions industry. Any one of these chunks of flak in the above photo could have meant tragedy to the courageous Canadian crew, but it is a matter of record that they went on to the target, dropped the bomb load and returned safely to their base.

THE OUT-SIDE

EDMONTON ELECTION

●No date has been set for the forthcoming bye-election in Edmonton made necessary by the death of D. M. Duggan. It is anticipated that no action will be taken until the return of Premier Aberhart from the coast where he is at present on holiday. The C.C.F. party has already nominated Elmer E. Royer, and the Independent party has named J. F. Lyburn, K.C., as candidate. The Edmonton Liberal Association has also decided to nominate a candidate but no definite action in this regard has yet been taken by the Social Credit Party.

DAY OF PRAYER

●His Majesty the King has decreed that Sept. 3, the anniversary of the outbreak of the war, be observed as a national day of prayer. It is anticipated that Canada will join with other units of the commonwealth in observing this decree.

●A step of far reaching importance in provincial health circles was taken this week with the announcement of Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, that the provincial government is now prepared to provide free surgical treatment for cancer sufferers, upon recommendations of the Alberta Cancer Clinic. At the last session of the legislature an appropriation of thirty thousand dollars was made for this purpose. Directed by Dr. G. H. Macleod who is recognized as one of Canada's outstanding cancer specialists. Free clinics in Calgary and Edmonton have handled 1800 cases since they were opened in 1941. Up to now free diagnosis, x-ray, and radium treatments have been given.

According to the director only 40 percent of those sent to the clinic were found to be suffering from Cancer. The remainder were sent home relieved of all worry. He stresses that early diagnosis and early treatment are the best means to eliminate this growing disease and intimates that the necessary step in the Alberta Cancer programme will be free provision of hospital facilities.

NEW FIVE-CENT PIECE

●Canada's new copper and zinc 12 sided five cent pieces, which are to preserve nickel supplies by replacing the present familiar coin, may be in circulation in September, Finance Minister J. L. Halsey states.

●If after this war we do not succeed in causing Germany to pass through an internal change and a revolution of the profoundest nature which will purify the German people from all filth and evil into which Germany has been dragged not only by Nazism but also by its whole national political education of the last 60 or 70 years since 1870, and even since Frederick the Great, then we shall have a third world war in another twenty years or so."

Dr. Edouard Benes.
●Western Canada's wheat crop for the current year is estimated at 552,543,000 bushels by the Searle Grain Company. Total production of all grains is estimated at 1,307 million bushels.

THE FAR NORTH

●Bishop R. J. Renison, rector of St. Paul's church at Toronto, predicted on his return from a 10,000-mile tour of Canada's Far North that the Alaska highway would move the Peace River District "ahead a whole generation." He felt "the place will be a mecca for tourists after the war."

AN 18-TON FIGHTING MACHINE FOR THE UNITED NATIONS

No. Junior, these big bells are not being used on tanks. The bells are being assembled for passenger locomotives in the same factory where Canada's Valentine tanks are produced in mass quantities. The Valentine, an infantry tank, is now in service on the Russian front where Soviet military experts have described the Canadian tank as highly effective. It is an 18-ton machine, powered with diesel motor. A giant mechanical ferret, it is capable of burrowing its way through a brick building and travelling at 20 miles per hour over difficult terrain. The body is armour plated, riveted and welded, and the rotary turret may be operated either by hand or electrical controls.

LUIGI ROMANELLI

A brilliant career was brought to a close July 29 with the death of Luigi Romanelli, leader of one of Canada's outstanding orchestras.

Romanelli was born in Belleville, Ontario, son of Joseph Romanelli, an Italian musician. His first appearance as a violinist was on the streets of Toronto, where he played for pennies thrown by passersby. His first professional performance was as a violinist on the ferry service from Toronto to Centre Island.

An authority on art and artists, he owned one of the best collections of paintings in Canada. Another of his interests was horses and at one time he owned the Canadian champion jumper.

He studied violin in London and Belgium. He was completely at ease whether playing symphonic or dance music.

He numbered among his many friends, stars of the stage and screen. For a long time he played on a theatre circuit that featured a group of boys known today as the Marx Brothers. Another highlight on the circuit was the entertainer, Bea Lillie, who is now Lady Peel. It was just about a quarter of a century ago that Luigi Romanelli introduced Canada to jazz. From a limited audience of yesterday, at the time of his death his admirers were legion.

SCOUT NOTES

A TANK TROOPER WITH A REPERTOIRE

A young soldier in a British tank unit was found to have an extraordinary knowledge of so many things that he was frequently asked to give lectures to his unit. He demonstrated some carpentering hints, cooking, first aid, map reading, telegraphy and woodcraft. He was looked upon as something of a freak. Finally the Sergeant Major asked where he had acquired all his knowledge. "Cigarette cards?" he suggested. "No, sir,"

CALLED TO COLORS

Once again Canada is calling more old comrades back to the colors it is revealed with the recent announcement from Col. H. R. Alley, Officer Commanding the Veterans Guard of Canada, that 2500 men are required immediately.

Major J. H. Gainer, M.C., District Recruiting Officer of Military District No. 13, has announced that commencing on the morning of August 10, 1942, four mobile recruiting units of the Veterans Guard of Canada will set out in four different directions and will cover practically every town and village in the province of Alberta, seeking recruits for the Veterans Guard of Canada.

The officer in charge of this itinerary in the Strathmore district will be Major F. J. Jenkins, Adjutant of the 14th (Res.) Army Tank Battalion, Calgary.

Special representation is being made to the Department of National Defence at Ottawa to have the age limit of veterans eligible to join the Veterans Guard raised from fifty to fifty-five years. Veterans who are interested in enlisting are also advised that special arrangements for "harvest leave" have been completed and that arrangements for same can be made if so desired.

DEPLETING THE COUNTRY DISTRICTS

WE followed with close interest the discussion pro and con re. the enlarged Municipal District at the meeting held in Strathmore Wednesday, August 5.

It was all too evident that the proponent of the plan advocated the enlarged areas centering on the cities where possible.

Herein lies our very strong objection.

It is our country's future for which we take objection to the above.

We have in these Western Agricultural Districts vast possibilities for building Community Interest that should make for social centres that will enrich our rural life in the years to come, and make for a better developed all around cultural status.

The desire and initiative of people to create a social development with the fuller development and broader prospects is lessened if too many of the essential lines are removed to a further field.

Hence from a cultural and four square development of our rural communities we believe the forming of the Large Municipal District is one feature that will have a reactionary influence in the life of the rural community.

Let us add to rather than detract from the social build up of the rural districts.

— By K. M. G. —

The hot weather of the past week has done much to fill out the grain, some wheat is beginning to show signs of ripening and it should not be long before the harvest is with us again.

A party of young couples spent the weekend at Pine Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cammaert, Mr. and Mrs. S. Frayn, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bragg, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Kayton.

Visitors to Banff last week were Mr. and Mrs. Velker and family and the Helmbecker family.

Mrs. Stone had her niece and nephew, Erlene and Harold Swanson staying with her for a week or more. Thursday they took them to Calgary to entrain for Ottawa to join their Mother, who is employed by the Government on War Work.

Owing to the illness of Rev. Ellison it was necessary to cancel church services at both Rosebud and Rockyford on Sunday, August 9.

The Sunday School organization have arranged to hold their annual picnic on Wednesday, August 12, at the Rosebud Valley School house. Both the church and school parishioners are looking forward to a good day.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the Laintree hall on Friday, August 7, when the neighbors and friends gathered to wish happiness to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wyman whose marriage took place a short time ago. Dancing was the order of the entertainment, and a beautiful case of silver and many other gifts were received by the happy couple. The local orchestra supplied the music.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S STORM MOST VIVID IN YEARS

Low rumblings of thunder began about seven o'clock Tuesday evening heralding one of the most vivid electric storms that has visited this district in the memory of most.

Sharp vivid streaks of lightning flashed constantly. It was magnificent. If one could forget the damage and danger to uncut fields of grain.

A very strong wind accompanied the electric storm adding its terrifying quota of danger.

Some hail fell, but not very heavy, and up to date no damage from hail has been reported. The heavy rain and wind would necessarily lodge the grain still more, adding to the difficulty of cutting.

Monday night's storm was equally terrific.

Together 1.11 inches of rain fell. In Tuesday's storm lightning struck the garage and bunk house on the Van Tighem farm south of town. The buildings were a total loss but completely covered by insurance.

TOO EARLY SEEDING OF WINTER WHEAT DANGEROUS

Lethbridge Experimental Station

The acreage that will be sown to winter wheat in Southern Alberta this fall will likely be considerably greater than that of previous autumns. There are different reasons why this should be the case, but the chief one is the fact that this season's crop of winter wheat is, in most cases, returning considerably more profit per acre than spring wheat.

Previous to last season winter wheat generally sold at a discount of from five to ten cents per bushel under spring wheat. During last fall and winter however, the market price for winter wheat was generally a little higher than that for spring wheat, and at present there is practically no spread in price.

The past winter was a very mild one and winter wheat crops came through with very little winter killing. The abundant rains of May, June and July were very timely for the production of a heavy crop of winter wheat. Spring wheat yields this season may therefore, be considered lower than those of winter wheat.

The facts mentioned above may influence some farmers to expand their acreage of winter wheat this fall, and others to sow it for the first time. From experiments conducted at the Lethbridge Experimental Station, and from observations of winter wheat crops in the district in past years, seeding at the proper time should be mentioned as probably the most important factor in growing a successful crop. In the southern part of the province seeding should not be done before September 1, but it is advisable to seed soon after that date. Too early sowing of winter wheat results in the crop being badly infested with root rot. In fact it was the development of root rot that caused the early settlers to change from winter wheat to spring wheat. Seed treatment to control smut is also important. This has frequently been neglected, with the result that in certain seasons too many carloads of winter wheat have graded "rejected" on account of smut. Of the numerous varieties tested at the station, none has yet proved superior to Kharikov or the M.C.22 strain of Kharikov for a wide range of conditions. During the thirty years that Kharikov has been grown at the Station it has only once winter killed completely, and its average yield for the whole period has been practically the same as that of spring wheat where both crops have been grown on summer fallow.

THAT ONE WORD 'IMMEDIATE' MEANS PLENTY OF ACTION TO NAZI HUNTING NAVAL OFFICERS

CANADIAN OFFICERS READY AT MOMENT'S NOTICE TO LEAP INTO 'HORNET'S' OF THE SEA

War-time needs for security have prevented much being written about the deeds of young Canadian officers serving with the Royal Navy in British waters. In motor torpedo boats and gunboats they put out from their bases "to seek out and engage the enemy." German E-boats, mine-sweepers, destroyers, and even a cruiser and two battleships have been engaged by sea-hornets in which Canadian officers are serving. Following is a description of the work of these officers, showing their instant readiness to fight ... and how they fight.

By Lieut. E. H. BARTLETT
R.C.N.V.R.

For one word, it produced an immense flurry of action.

Three Canadian naval officers were sitting before a fire in a room at an English naval base, enjoying a before bedtime chat. They were Lieutenants J. D. Maitland and J. A. McCutcheon of Vancouver and C. Burk of Montreal. The chat was broken by a presumptory knock at the door. A girl of the Women's Royal Naval Service called out: "Immediate."

Action was instantaneous. Two of the officers, without apology or explanation, bolted from the room to their own nearby. The third, the owner of the room, started to strip even before the door had opened for their departure. With practised speed he donned heavy woolen underwear, thick sweaters and flannel trousers, sea-boot stockings and wool-lined leather boots. A canvas coat, reaching to his knees, and a woolen toque and he was dressed ... dressed for the action with the enemy which that one word "immediate" had promised.

Blocking Enemy Ports

In their "cabins" brother officers had imitated his actions. In a matter of minutes they were assembled in the hall of the officers' quarters ready to operate some of the deadly "mosquito" craft which counter the hit-and-run tactics of the German E-boats and share in the task of blocking the enemy ports.

"Mosquito" craft is rather an out-of-date title for the motor torpedo boats and the motor launches of this war. Rather may they be termed the hornets of the sea, for their sting is vicious and lethal, as there are sunken enemy craft to prove. And like hornets, they are always in readiness to swarm to the attack.

The word 'immediate' set their base humming like a hornets' nest. While some of the officers went to their boats, the commanding officers gathered at the operations room to await final orders and gain as clear a picture as possible of what had called them in to instant readiness.

There was action at sea.

Some of their boats, outnumbered, were engaging an enemy E-boat unit. They had reported the fact by wireless.

Such actions are swift and furious. The sea-hornets are the fastest craft afloat, and action can spread over miles of sea in the course of minutes. Against the possibility that the action might spread in their direction, and give them a chance to join in, the boats and their crews were standing by.

Chance For Action

In the operations room the commanding officers were greeted by the officer in charge.

"Sorry to call you chaps out," said the operations officer, "but there's an off-chance we might have a spot of action."

On the walls of the small room in which he stood his watch, he flagged charts were the only decoration. There was a desk, two telephones, table, with a few papers. One easy chair before a small fire, a bed, not slept in that night and, to complete the furnishings, a couple of chairs. A room not for comfort, a room as coldly efficient as the men who use it.

"This is the picture," said the operations officer, and told of the interception by "some of our chaps" of a much larger enemy unit. He gave the position where the engagement started.

"So far," the report concluded, "that's all we know. You'd better sit down, and we'll get some tea."

A Canadian officer sidled toward the bed and, removing his canvas coat, quickly stretched full length upon it. He's an experienced campaigner and knows how to make the most of every moment of rest.

Everyone Relaxes

An English lieutenant stretched himself in the easy chair in a matter of moments he was asleep. The others found their own methods of relaxation.

The ringing of the telephone, however, brought them quickly to the alert. The operations officer took the message, his face unreadable and his only comment a "Thank you" as it concluded.

"Another signal through," he told them. It reads, "Enemy driving southward. Am chasing."

"Good show, what?" said the Canadian, who has gained some of the English idiom although he has lost nothing of his own accent.

"They've got a good moon for it, should get some of them," added the senior officer of the unit, a Royal Navy lieutenant. Square-jawed, steady-eyed he had shown no sign of relaxing during the period of waiting.

There was another settling down, broken once more by the telephone's ring.

Chased Them Home

"No further contacts. Stopped off ... read the signal this time. The port of which the British craft had stopped was an enemy port.

The English officer murmured commendation: "Chased the so-and-so's right back home."

"It looks as if you could go home, too," broke in the operations officer, "there just isn't going to be any fun for you tonight."

The original force, outnumbered as it had been, had handled the situation without need of assistance.

From a Canadian officer, (Lieut. George F. Duncan, R.C.N.V.R., Montreal) came the other view of the picture, when, on his return to his base, he told of the action.

Before the war he had been a chartered accountant. Before the war, too, he had seen the need of preparing for it and as an officer in the supplementary reserve in Montreal, had taken preliminary training. In Great Britain, shortly after the outbreak of war, that training had been intensified, with special attention to what would fit him for work with the sea-hornets.

His account of the action was concise to the point of baldness.

They Laid No Mines

"Quite a straightforward affair," he declared. "We were out on an ordinary patrol, and these Jerries came out to lay mines. So we went into them. Operated up with all we had and saw one of them burst into flames, although he got them out pretty quickly. I must say, it was a short affair, for they turned tail right away and streaked back for home. We chased after them, but couldn't get contact again. There was quite a bumpy sea, and that didn't help. However, we know we didn't do them any good, because we managed to get quite a few hits. And what is more, they didn't lay any of their ruddy mines."

ALBERTA PACIFIC REDUCES BOTH STREET AND CARLOT SPREAD

The Alberta Pacific Grain Company has reduced by one and one-half (1½c) cents a bushel the spread in the handling of "street" wheat and has also reduced by one (1c) cent a bushel the spread in the handling of "carlot" wheat delivered to the Wheat Board through Alberta Pacific elevators for the 1942 crop year.

This means not only that the "street"
 spread in Board wheat handled by Alberta Pacific elevators will be eliminated and that farmers who deliver on that basis will receive the carlot price but also that farmers delivering "street" wheat will benefit by one and one-half (1½c) cents a bushel and farmers delivering "carlot" wheat will benefit by one (1c) cent a bushel as compared with last year's charges. The Wheat Board has been advised accordingly.

The well-known reputation of the A. P. for thirty years is that it has never trailed behind anyone in price and grade given for the farmers' grain.

Do your grain business with an A. P.
 agent.

SAVE YOUR TUBES FOR TIN

Last year 725,000 pounds of tin made 31,520,000 tubes for tooth paste, suncreams, ointments, and other products. This year with the tin supplies in Malaya and the Dutch East Indies gone, with the smelters gone too, Canada is trying to call in the used tin tubes which so recently were thought to be an inconspicuous part of the market.

Tin is urgently needed. All collapsible tubes should be turned in to drug stores, cigar stores or general and departmental stores, required to have receptacles to receive them. A check up indicates not more than 25 to 30 percent of such tubes are being turned in.

Used tubes fight our battles this

ARMAGEDDON, OR ???

"This war must be the Armageddon and our day must be the end of the world," is a statement that I have heard very frequently in this as well as in the former World War.

MY ANSWER? It is the story of two travellers in the Pyrenees Mountains. One had never gone that way before and the first night they pitched their tent on one of the higher plateaus. Towards morning, with the first grey streaks of dawn, all nature appeared suddenly in the grip of violent convulsions, the winds threatening to uproot everything in sight. The inexperienced traveller, frightened almost to death, hastened to awaken his companion: "Wake up! Wake up!" he cried, "this must be the end of the world."

"No, not the end of the world, but the dawn of a new day in the Pyrenees," calmly replied his more experienced companion.

"Not the end of the world, but the dawn of a new day!" At least we can make it that! Many good people believe this struggle predicts the end of the world. It could be that as well as the other! But it can be the birth pains preceding the new and better day to be ushered in soon. For this war has brought us to a rude awakening of the fact that the world order we had created for ourselves was very far removed from the ideals of a Christian World Order.

God, both in nature and in history has a way of discarding old systems that have outlived their usefulness, and discards them in a manner that appears catastrophic to us. Especially among the higher forms of life where intelligence has entered the field, a new birth is marked by preceding pain and suffering. Today all civilization is in travail and pain waiting to bring forth a new and better world order for all humanity.

All around us a divine discontent is running alongside of the death, suffering and destruction that mark this day in the history of humanity. The meaning of this divine discontent may well be that first step in the upward climb of men's souls towards higher levels of christian living. It can be, and should be, a new level that will bring us closer to God and more fully into harmony with the Divine plan for the brotherhood of all mankind.

But let us be watchful and diligent that our labors produce more than merely a storm of destruction, that it bring forth the spirit of brotherhood of man. No other meaning can we attribute to the recent Delaware Conference and the meeting of these other groups that have insisted that this struggle must result in a better world order for humanity. It must not be allowed once again to issue only in still-born hopes never realized.

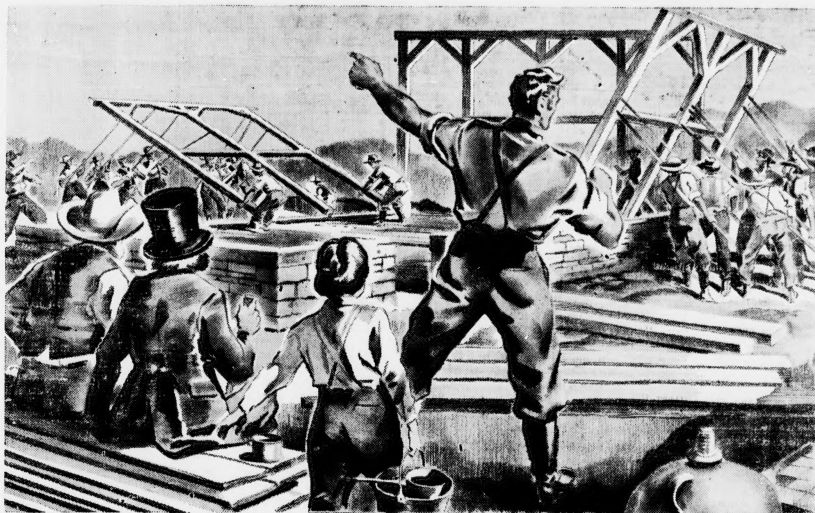

The old Order was splendid in its day. To it we owe much that has made life richer and more worthwhile. But now it is hony with age, senile and decadent in its performance of service to humanity.

The first grey streaks of dawn are already on the horizon and they point towards a new order that will be based on equal rights and opportunities for all individuals and nations alike. "God's earth and all His bounties for all of God's people on this earth," must be its motto and we must learn to practise this ideal.

This will mean fellowship and community of all nations. Our Christian hopes and ideals work in that direction now. Christian Missions must now become something more than they have been. More than a sharing of our hopes beyond the grave. They must produce a fellowship of hopes, ideals and purposes as well as a sharing of God's bounties in the material things of life. For this we need new vision and faith. A faith that will bring a complete reversal of the white man's attitude towards peoples of other races and colours and lands. An equality of races, as Oxenham said in poetry:

"In Christ there is no East nor West,
In him no South nor North,
But one great fellowship of love
Throughout the whole round earth."

AN OLD CANADIAN CUSTOM . . .

When our pioneer grandparents had a big job to do they called in their neighbours. A barn raising brought help from miles around. Skilled barn framers took charge; sides were chosen and competition between teams lent interest to the work. This old Canadian custom was revived when Canada's National War Finance Committee was formed and went into operation. Under the leadership of the National and Provincial Committees—men experienced in the organization and conduct of financial operations—Local Committees were formed in all communities. Co-operation and competition characterized the work. The biggest "raising" in Canada's history got away to a magnificent start.

WE'VE GOT A BIG JOB TO DO NOW

The War goes on. The National War Finance Committee carries on. Some will serve on the committees organized to promote continued sales of Bonds, War Savings Certificates and Stamps. All of us must continue to buy these securities. We must save every dollar, every cent we can—and lend our money to Canada. We must provide the money required to carry on the war—the money required to win the war.

Our fighters must have more ships and tanks and guns and planes. They must have better ships and tanks and guns and planes than the enemy has. We must all work, and save and lend. The safest investments we can find for our savings are Bonds, War Savings Certificates and Stamps—and they will provide money for us to buy things that we will want when the war is ended.

HUSSAR GETS GRAVELLED ROAD

When one more mile is finished the 18 miles from the Hussar corner to the highway will have been gravelled, and Hussar will no longer be isolated whenever bad weather breaks.

The Blackfoot municipality gravelled the road from the Hussar corner to the Chancellor corner. The local improvement district under V. A. Treacy agreed to gravel the last five miles if the municipality would do the two miles in between. The municipality agreed to donate $450 to the work, provided the people around Hussar would raise another $450.

The district raised $600, and the extra $150 was used for grading the road from Hussar north to the Dead Horse Lake and for upkeep.

The value of the road has already been proved. On Tuesday when the rain was coming down in buckets and the bridge in the Thompson flat was swept away, two trucks, heavily loaded, came through on the gravelled road without trouble.

A lady had been looking for a friend for a long time without success. Finally she came upon her in an unexpected way.

"Well," she exclaimed, "I've been on a perfect goose chase all day long, but thank goodness, I've found you at last!"

MATTER OF TIME

She: "Why have you brought me artificial flowers?"

He: "Well, real ones usually die while I'm waiting for you."
